

ALLEN KLEIN

NOSE

ABOUT HUMOR.

Adults average 15 laughs a day.
Children laugh 400 times a day.

Somewhere between childhood and adulthood, we lose 385 laughs a day.

Allen Klein can show your audience how to reclaim their lost laughter. He informs while tickling funny bones. His message is that we need to take humor seriously and serious things humorously.

THE PRESENTER . . .

Allen Klein is a nationally recognized speaker and humor educator. He holds a master's degree in the subject and has been the focus of over 50 radio and television interviews and newspaper articles.

His material is derived from his experience as a scenic designer for "Captain Kangaroo", a Director of The Life/Death Transitions Institute, a successful entrepreneur, and a health care professional.

Allen's writing has appeared in such publications as Prevention, The San Francisco Chronicle/Examiner, In Context, and The American Journal of Hospice Care.

Allen publishes The Whole Mirth Catalog, a mail order compendium of fun-raising items, and is the author of a soon to be published book, Learning to Laugh When You Feel Like Crying.
